"The Piper" Will Be Played Again

In response to the requests of a large number of persons, not only of Carmel but of several other places, that "The Piper" be given again, the Forest Theatre Society has decided to repeat the play next Saturday night.

Most of the principals of the original production are still in Carmel, and the places of the children who have returned to their homes will be taken by others.

An added attraction of this show will be a number of dances under the direction of Miss Jeannette Hoagland, to whom was granted this date for an evening's program, but who generously gave way to "The Piper." There will be a children's Russian dance by three couples, a solo dance by Irene Goold, Moment Musical by three girls, and a solo dance entitled "Carmel Sunset", by Jeannette Hoagland.

"The City of Carmel-by-the-Sea"

Citizens Take Preliminary Steps to Incorporate

The preliminary legal formalities have been inaugurated, setting in motion the proposal to incorporate "The City of Carmel-by-the-Sea," making it under the laws of the State of California, a city of the sixth class.

Fifty resident citizens and property owners have petitioned the Monterey County Board of Supervisors, to set a date upon which an election may be held submitting to the electors this proposition.

The time for action has arrived. Carmel has reached the point where it must either go ahead or stand still. To stand still means to go back. There is too much at stake to go back.

We have the people; we have the homes, and we have the business concerns.

We need street improvements, police and fire protection. These things may be obtained for a very small additional tax, a tax which will more than be compensated for by automatically increased values immediately following incorporation.

It must not be assumed that the city trustees, under the new order, would proceed to make all improvements desired at once. Work would be done gradually and thoroughly and economically. There will be no fancy salaried official. Much of our tax money, now going to Salinas—and remaining there, will come back direct to the town. In fact; we shall govern ourselves, have home rule.

"Charlie's Aunt" Pleases Large and Enthusiastic Audience

"Charlie's Aunt" and a number of comedies I have seen before; perhaps you have also. I do not recall that any of these performances were entirely free from vulgar and offensive lines and situations.

"Charlie's Aunt" is not exactly the sort of play the founders of the Forest Theatre contemplated should be produced there. Yet, if on occasion it is deemed expedient to present such an offering, it is a pleasure to note that we got it clean, wholesome and admirably acted, last Saturday night.

"Charlie's Aunt", has been played thousands of times in years past. I doubt very much whether it ever had such a cast as played it here—an all star cast.

Now what think you of Arthur Cyril, who did Camarin in Yolanda," playing Babberly in the "Aunt," and geting away with it so successfully? I call it a distinct achievement. And do you remember Gordon Davis in "The Piper," when he said, "No, I couldn't hurt him"? Well, he's the same fellow who was Charlie's college chum—some actor. Ludovic Bremner masquerading as the Aunt, was his usual talented self, but at the same time I momentarily expected him to ask for his thousand gilders. Trust Perry Newberry to get a laugh when the book calls for it. With his fine stage presence, good voice and enunciation Walter O'Connell was well cast for Col. Chesney. So well did Philip Wilson play Brasset that I was reminded of "The Admirable Critchton."

Marian Devendorf, Katharine Cook, Marian Roke and Mrs. Bremner, the ladies of the cast, did admirable work, all of them by word and act playing up to the men, and helping to make the most of every situation.

If you read it in the Pine Cone, you may safely repeat it.

Elect Johnson to The U. S. Senate

When Hiram W. Johnson is elected to the Senate of the United States, he will be receiving a salary of $2500 a year less than he is paid as Governor—not one fourth what he could earn in less wearing work at his chosen profession.

Against his inclination, in direct opposition to his own financial and other interests, at great personal sacrafice the Governor yielded to importunities which became a universal demand, and consented to enter upon the new crusade.

Why those importunities and that demand?

Because it was recorgnized that Hiram W. Johnson is the only man, the one great vital force which can keep alive and battling in California the spirit and the soul of decent public service.

And also it was recognized that the work which must be done by Johnson can be done in the future far better in the Senate of the United States than in the gubernatorial chair, with far securer chances of greater accomplishments.

The people want him because Mike de Young and Otis and Spreckles are fighting him. Vote for him on the 29th.

With Phelan and Johnson in the United States Senate, California will be better represented than ever before in her history.

Fire Under Control

The forest fire in the Big Sur country, which has been raging since last Thursday morning, is now under control.

The area devastated is approximately twenty-five square miles, including both government and private property.

The property destroyed embraces a vast amount of redwood timber, the University of California Bee Farm, the telephone line from Big Sur to Soledad.

Upwards of seventy-five men were engaged in fighting the flames, among them a number of regulars from the Monterey Presidio.

WEEKLY GREETING

To work patiently in faith and love, to do, not what we like, but what we revere, confers not liberty only, but power.—Martineau.

WORK AND HAPPINESS.

Work is good for us. The most idle are the most unhappy and of the least importance in the world. There are those who plume themselves on not being obliged to labor, who think that this stamps them as superior to those who must work. They are greatly mistaken. The man who works for his day's wages and carries his dinner pail, is of far more importance than any idler. The man who wears blue jeans, whose hands show familiar acquaintance with toil, need not look with envy on the idle rich, who walks as if his feet scorned the street, or leans back in his carriage. The appearance of ease is greater than the reality, for idleness is not conducive to happiness. One whose mind is not occupied by useful thoughts is likely to be filled with qualities that bring unhappiness in their train. The idle man is not living up to the best that he might be. Then work.

A Versatile Publisher

Frank A. Munsay, who has just acquired title to the New York Sun has won his wealth through clever and profitable editing and selling of low-priced magazine literature. A native of Maine, and for a time a storekeeper and later a telegrapher, he got his start in the publishing world in 1882 with the Golden Argosy, a weekly for juveniles. With the profits from that he launched Munsey's Weekly in 1889. Two years later this was changed to Munsey's Magazine. In due time other periodicals, low in cost and popular in form, followed. A decade later he became interested in civic questions, and, to carry out his ends as a politician and reformer, he began to purchase newspapers. He now has the Washington Times and the New York Journal. The Press is to be merged with the Sun. Mr. Munsey for a season was a Progressive, but, with Mr. Roosevelt, has gone back to the Republican party.

A Matter of Pride

Inspired by the fine condition of San Carlos Avenue, the highway into Carmel, the owners of property on Ocean Avenue, west of the new highway to Lincoln Street, have united in putting the street in order. The ground has been scraped and leveled and load after load of crushed rock spread and thoroghly packed.

The large vacant lot between the butcher shop and the Pine Cone office, which has seemed to be the catch-all for all sorts of refuse and papers, has been cleaned and much of the dry grass thereon burned.

This clean-up and improvement work should be an example to other sections of the the little city to be.

Off For Bohemia

To witness the annual Bohemian Club play, "Gold," by Fred Myrth, a well known newspaper man, a number of Carmel literary men left last Friday for Bohemian Grove, Sonoma county. Those going from here include James Hopper, Harry Leon Wilson, Frank Pixley and Herbert Heron.

Despite its name, the play has nothing to do with miners or the days of '49. It portrays with poetic touch the original planting of gold in the earth and pictures it as a sort of experimental trick on the part of Destiny to see what man would do upon learning its nature and possibilities.

Destiny speaks:

This substance, known as gold, shall have the power
To guide man's course to glory or to grief—
As good or evil impulse shall control his use of it.

Johnny, Get Your Gun

Rev. D. Charles Gardner, chaplain of Stanford university is one man in this camp who has been able to combine pacifism with militarism to such an extent that he will emerge from his military course trained to arms without having touched a lethal weapon. Dr. Gardner joined the camp as a regular recruit, but reported to Brigadier General William L. Sibert, camp commander, that he had had conscientious scruples against a man of the cloth using a service rifle. Dr. Gardner said he wanted to perform every one of the duties of a soldier except the part of killing, so throughout the camp he has drilled, waited on tables, done police duty and everything he had been told to do, but he never has had a rifle in his hands.—Exchange.
